

132 GIVE BLOOD HERE ON FRIDAY THRU RED CROSS

Setting the best record attained here in several months, the Red Cross on Friday received 132 pints of blood for the fighting men overseas and for fractionation to obtain gamma globulin to be used in the fight against polio this year. On the last visit to the donor center in College Lutheran Church here in November, the total was 124 pints.

A bloc of 80 donors from the Biglerville and Gardners plants of the C. H. Musselman Company played a big role in boosting the day's total. The Musselman men and women, who were on regular pay from the company for their visit to the blood donor station, filled much of the appointment time from 11:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The Alwine Brick Company at New Oxford also sent a group of volunteer donors here in the afternoon.

29 Walk-ins Helped

Of the 185 persons who had appointments, 151 appeared, a much better proportion than in some other months. Only 19 were rejected. Twenty-nine walk-in donors who appeared at the center without appointments also helped boost the total close to the 150-pint goal.

661 FARMERS INTERESTED IN CONSERVATION

Six hundred sixty-one Adams County farmers, whose lands total 72,147 acres, have made application so far to the Adams County Soil Conservation District for conservation plans for their farms. Robert C. Lott, a director of the district, reported Friday evening at the annual conservation meeting at the Court House.

More than 160 farmers and their families attended the session, the largest attendance in the five years that such meetings have been held. Lott's report showed that active conservation plans are being carried out on 362 farms totaling 36,168 acres. Practices and total acreage established so far were listed as: contour orchard, 988; contour farming, 4,392; cover cropping, 2,202; stubble mulch, 1,907; strip cropping, 3,405; pasture improvement, 2,449; tree planting, 268; woodland management, 2,253; field drainage, 1,583; crop rotations, 5,879; perennial hay, 304; pasture management, 3,030; wildlife borders, 29; and seeding pasture, 2,196.

"Stewards Of The Land"

Other conservation measures established, as reported by Mr. Lott, included 155 farm ponds; 7.25 miles of terraces, 21.97 miles of diversions; 205,954 linear feet of closed drains; 60.65 miles of open drains; 40,575 linear feet of hedgerows; 191,638 feet of outlets for watercourses and 6,155 feet of channel improvements for streams.

"The land is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, and man is but a steward of the land, responsible to God for how well he handles it," Rev. Robert Schiebel, pastor of the Arendtsville Lutheran Church, told the group.

"Most of us would not even think of robbing our neighbors, but we day in and day out rob our land through greed or carelessness. And in robbing the land we rob our children and our grandchildren.

Seven Inches Of Topsoil

"And this particular sin of robbing the land is all the more shocking because this civilization we have built is based on about seven inches of top soil. Once there was nine inches of topsoil, not so long ago, but now the average has dropped, and in some places, the topsoil is gone entirely.

"We see what has happened to civilizations that failed to serve as faithful stewards of their soil. Once the great civilizations that flourished on the banks of the Tigris and the Euphrates supported several million people with food for all. Now (Continued on Page 2)

Here And There News Collected At Random

Gettysburg, long accustomed to entertaining world figures, once set its sights on General Lafayette when that distinguished Frenchman revisited the land which he had helped to free.

This information was revealed in a letter which was recently uncovered in the archives of Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, by Dr. Leo F. Stock, native of Gettysburg, now of Washington, D.C., and one of the leading historians of the country.

In 1824, Lafayette revisited the United States. A former friend who had come to America in 1794 through letters and a passport given by Lafayette was John Dubois, founder of Mt. St. Mary's. Dubois later became Archbishop of New York. As President of the Mount, Dubois had expected the General to visit the college during his stay. This, however, did not happen.

That Gettysburg planned to entertain Lafayette on his way to the Mount is revealed in the letter which Doctor Stock found at the Mount. It reads as follows.

"Gettysburg, Nov. 26, 1824. The undersigned have been (Please Turn to Page 6).

Church Of Brethren Founded In 1790 By Rev. David Pfoutz; Met First In Members' Homes

Another milestone in history of the Church of the Brethren, Marsh Creek Congregation, will be achieved on Sunday when the new stone edifice of worship on the Biglerville Rd. will be dedicated.

The new church is located in an open area with a background of evergreen trees to provide a setting appropriate for Brethren worship. The structure has been designed and constructed to accommodate a growing congregation.

Pennsylvania Colonial style is a predominant Brethren means of expression architecturally, and it has been used here. The native sand stone used in the exterior walls is a further exemplification of keeping the building native to the spot where it is erected.

Carries Out Customs

The Brethren customs are carried further with the inclusion of a pool in the chancel area to accommodate baptisms at any season of the year. The pulpit and lectern have been separated, so as to afford a better view of baptisms and other functions in the chancel.

Window subjects again bring out the feeling of Brethren worship, and have been painted with that thought in mind. The doctrines of Brethren faith are depicted on these windows.

The cupola with a spire is erected at the transept, or crossing of the two axes, and in it is located speakers to carry word or music to open areas around the church.

Sunday School accommodations are provided in the basement, with several rooms for class study in the rear of the nave and a nursery for the accommodation of small children.

Has Large Kitchen

The kitchen is of ample size to prepare food for "Love Feasts," class functions or district gatherings. Tables have been provided to enable holding the Love Feast in the large room adjoining the kitchen.

FIRE DESTROYS BIG BARN NEAR BIGLERVILLE

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the large bank barn on the Sunny Hill farm in Quaker Valley owned by Glenn A. Slaybaugh, Biglerville, early this morning causing damage estimated at between $17,000 and $20,000.

Slaybaugh estimated the loss for the large, L-shaped bank barn at from $12,000 to $15,000 and set his loss in trucks, equipment and hay at about $5,000.

Destroyed in the conflagration were the barn, 15 tons of hay and straw, 1,000 apple crates, a carload of baskets, a 1948 Chevrolet truck, another farm truck, 100 ladders, and a large number of other orchard and farm supplies. Also destroyed were a chicken house owned by the tenants of the place, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cutshall, and 30 chickens which were in the building.

The loss was said to be partly covered by insurance.

Save 23 Steers

Twenty-three steers were in the barn and the adjoining barn yard, but were released in time to save their lives. The steers were rounded up this morning and it was found that three of them had been badly burned before they could be removed from the barn yard.

Mr. and Mrs. Cutshall arrived home about 10:30 o'clock Friday night, and found all as usual about the place. At 2:45 o'clock this morning they were awakened to find the barn and adjoining structures a blaze. The fire apparently started in the upper part of the barn, an examination disclosed later this morning.

Mr. Cutshall had difficulty moving a bar across the barnyard gate and it was only after his brother-in-law, Mr. Slaybaugh, arrived, that the two were able to open the gate to release the steers.

Biglerville and Arendtsville fire departments each sent two fire trucks to the scene and firemen worked until 6 o'clock this morning to save the house and other buildings. Only the rain and lack of wind saved the house from destruction before firemen arrived, Slaybaugh said.

Firemen pumped water from a nearby stream.

Rubinstein To Be Deported

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell has ordered a deportation warrant be served on Serge Rubinstein, Russian-born financier believed to be in the metropolitan area.

In Washington yesterday, Rubinstein was denied a federal court preliminary injunction which would prohibit the government from deporting him.

Rubinstein was ordered deported last month but an appeals court held up action pending outcome of the injunction move.

The 43-year-old Rubinstein came to the United States in 1938 on a Portuguese passport and later built up a sizable fortune.

In 1947 he was tried for draft dodging and sent to prison. His attorneys have argued that he has paid his debt to society and they do not consider draft evasion in World War II to be moral turpitude.

SEE ANOTHER ASSIGNMENT FOR KENNAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador George Kennan, an expert on Soviet affairs who served for five months last year as U. S. envoy in Moscow, will be given a new assignment, officials said today.

An apparent divergence of opinion between Kennan and Secretary of State Dulles was smoothed over last night by the State Department. A department spokesman said that Dulles regards the affair as a "closed episode" indicated the secretary was satisfied Kennan had not deliberately set out to assail ideas just expressed by Dulles.

The statement, however, did nothing to resolve the apparently real conflict between the basic ideas expressed by the two men. Dulles accepted Kennan's explanation, in a face-to-face meeting at the State Department yesterday, that a speech he delivered Jan. 16 at Scranton, Pa., was not designed as criticism of testimony which Dulles gave a day earlier before a Senate committee.

Following the meeting yesterday the State Department press office released a statement saying Kennan had prepared his speech, cleared it with other State Department officials—then still working under former Secretary Acheson—and distributed it to newsmen before Dulles spoke to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Containment Vs. Liberation
During the political campaigns Dulles sharply criticized the policy of containment of Soviet power—a policy with which Kennan has long been identified—and advocated a new policy of "liberation" toward Soviet satellite states. Dulles reaffirmed his belief in such a new policy when he spoke before the Senate committee.

Kennan, on the other hand, in effect defended the basic line of the containment policy in his Scranton speech and argued against the adoption by the U. S. government of any policy aimed at the "disintegration" of any other government.

THEOLOGIAN SPEAKS HERE

Dr. Paul Tillich, professor of theology at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, and one of the foremost theologians in the United States today, delivered two lectures at the Lutheran Seminary Thursday. His subject for both lectures was "Human Nature in Existentialism and Theology."

In his morning lecture Dr. Tillich defined "existentialism" as the attempt to describe man in the human predicament of history. The problem of "existentialism" is as old as the myth, preceding history and philosophy, according to Dr. Tillich. "The problem of our age," he said, "is to rediscover the human predicament in existentialism."

"As a result of the advances of the past four centuries in technical science 'existentialism' has added a new element in that man has become a mere object in the processes of nature, reason, technical development and social organization."

"In the twentieth century 'existentialism' has tried to show that man has ceased to exist as a subject in the universe and has gained freedom. Further, 'existentialism' has attempted to give a meaningful expression to a meaningless world. Existentialist art, modern drama and novels all tend to express creatively the uncreative."

During the afternoon lecture in the Seminary chapel, Dr. Tillich answered the question, "What should we do with our freedom?" At this point, Dr. Tillich stressed the importance of the existential rediscovery of the human predicament in theology, since no tradition is able to stay alive.

A dinner-meeting was held by the Friday Literary Club at the YWCA Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock with the husbands of the 18 members as guests. Members of the Annie Danner Club served the turkey dinner. Tall yellow candles, ivy and original place cards decorated the table. The dinner was in charge of the committee of the year which included Mrs. Earl Bowen, chairman and toastmistress, assisted by Mrs. A. R. Wentz and Mrs. Albert Bachman. Mrs. Wentz read greetings from Mrs. R. S. Saby and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, former members.

Other program highlights were familiar songs led by Mrs. W. R. Sammel with Mrs. Jacob W. Heikinen at the piano; and individual singing or reading of the national anthems of the countries studied by the group this year. Dr. and Mrs. Heikinen represented Finland; Dean and Mrs. W. E. Tilberg represented Sweden; Parker B. Wagner represented Norway; and Mrs. Wagnild and Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, Denmark. Dr. Rasmussen showed colored slides of his trip to Europe last summer, supplementing the pictures with a running commentary. After Dr. and Mrs. Heikinen played a piano duet, the latter closed the program with the selection, "Finlandia."

Officers and teachers of the Presbyterian Church School will hold their January meeting Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Stauffer, Biglerville.

FBI Nabs Ex-Convict Sought Six Months

CHICAGO (AP)—John Joseph Brennan, 33, an ex-convict hunted for nearly six months as a suspect in a $40,000 bank robbery, was seized by FBI agents in a suburban Cicero saloon last night.

Brennan, who once boasted he never would be taken alive, surrendered meekly. No weapon was found in his possession. Agents had surrounded the saloon, expecting he might attempt to make a break. Brennan was the third man seized in connection with the hold-up last Aug. 1 of the bank of Lyons, Ill., in which four gunmen escaped with $40,000. Brennan, Patrick Shue, George Ellis and Richard Westerhausen were indicted in September for the bank robbery and their bonds set at $50,000 each. All but Shue now are in custody.

Civil War Veteran Dies Friday Morning

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24 (AP)—William Allen Magee, who joined the Union Army as a bugler when he was 13, died Friday. He was 106.

His death left only two known survivors who fought with the North in the Civil War — James A. Hardy, of Rochester, N. Y., 111, and Albert Woolson, of Duluth, Minn., 105.

Magee suffered a stroke on Jan. 2 and had remained in a coma until his death at the Sawtelle Veterans Hospital Friday morning. He had enjoyed good health until stricken.

Magee sounded reveille for Gen. Sherman's troops in their historic sweep through Georgia, and like the army so well he stayed in it for 34 years. He fought through several Indian campaigns, chased outlaw Jesse James and saw action in the Spanish-American War.

The new kills brought the Allied total to 19 in the last five days. Ground action today was highlighted by an Allied patrol raid against a Chinese Communist position northeast of Porkchop Hill on the West Central Front. Fifty Reds were killed or wounded in the half-hour hit-and-run assault.

Mrs. McCormick also was the widow of former Congressman Marvin E. Olmsted.

MIKE JACOBS PASSES AWAY THIS MORNING

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Michael Straus Jacobs, a fabulous figure in boxing until his retirement six years ago, died of a heart attack today. He was 72.

The man who organized the Twentieth Century Sporting Club in New York and signed up Joe Louis for his exclusive services died of a "coronary insufficiency" in Mount Sinai Hospital, Miami Beach, at 6:20 a. m. (EST).

His widow, Mrs. Josephine Jacobs, said he had "been feeling great right up to about 3 p. m. yesterday."

He was attending the races at Hialeah Park at the time, she said. "It didn't seem like anything at first," Mrs. Jacobs explained. "We took him home from the track and then called a doctor."

"Uncle Mike" was rushed to the hospital and admitted at 5:40 p. m. He was immediately placed in an oxygen tent, and gradually sank during the night.

Services In New York
Mrs. Jacobs said services and burial would be in New York. "Uncle Mike" who was considered the absolute ruler of boxing through his control of Joe Louis, during the latter's reign as heavyweight champion, suffered a stroke in New York six years ago. Thereafter he gradually retired from active participation in his 20th Century Sporting Club. Several years ago he sold out to Jim Norris and the current International Boxing Club.

Jacobs staged many championship bouts, but perhaps the biggest was the return bout between Louis and Challenger Billy Conn at Yankee Stadium, June 19, 1946. Ringside seats for the scrap sold at $100. A crowd of 45,266 turned out and contributed to a gross gate of $1,925,564, the second largest in boxing annals.

HOUSE-WARMING AT GALLINGERS

An informal house-warming for their new home at Brown's Dam, near East Berlin was given by Mr. and Mrs. Milo Gallinger to a few friends last Sunday evening. The affair was combined with a reception for the daughter, Jo-Alice Couch of Provincetown, Mass., who is spending the month of January with her parents.

Miss Couch gave a musical program on the violin accompanied by Mrs. Osma Gallinger at the piano and guests were shown through the new studio of Creative Crafts, close at Conewago Creek. The Brown's Dam studio has taken the place of that formerly at Guernsey.

Miss Couch also gave a description of a pageant at Provincetown in which she took part depicting the landing of the Pilgrims. She was among the guests at a dinner given at Plymouth by M.G.M. Studios to the cast and friends associated with the premier performance of the new movie, "Plymouth Adventure."

Miss Couch will return to her studio "Sea Waves" at Provincetown February 1.

Mrs. Gallinger recently returned from a lecture tour in Dayton, Ohio, where she was the guest of the Miami Valley Weavers' Guild and conducted a course in weaving and re-weaving injured fabrics.

And so it does make a difference what we do with our lands. We as Christians must preserve our soil as well as our souls. And if we lose our soil there will be no need to seek the salvation of souls, for there will be no more people, for there will be no food."

A. W. Butterfield, Gettysburg R. D., described the conservation work on his farm 1 1/2 miles north of Gettysburg where an extensive drainage program has been established along with pasture improvement, and the laying out of a rotation of crops for particular sections of the 100-acre farm.

Chris Musser, York, reported on conservation measures on his farm. A motion picture made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture depicting a year's conservation work on the Musser farm was shown. John Peters presided at the meeting.

GHS Starts And Finishes Fast To Defeat Hanover Five 60-42; Jayvees Lose Preliminary 35-30

A dazzling start and an equally fast finish gave the Gettysburg High School cagers a 60-42 victory over Hanover here Friday night in a South Penn League game before approximately 600 fans, many of whom were Nighthawk supporters.

The game was one of the oddest seen here in some time. Coach George Forney's Warriors rushed off to a 21-6 lead in the first quarter, failed to get a single goal in the second period, were eventually tied at 32-32 late in the third quarter, and then put on a brilliant finish to win going away.

Coach Forney shook up his starting lineup and used Bobby Rohrbaugh, Jay Schmitt, Jim Skinner, George Penn and Gus Dayhoff as his starting group. They put on a sensational first period, completely routing the Hawks with a fast pressing game coupled with some fine shooting on the part of Rohrbaugh and Schmitt. The period produced some of the finest Warrior basketball seen this season and at the end of the round the locals seemingly had a fool proof lead.

It was a different story in the second period as Hanover took charge. The Hawks moved their zone defense farther out while the Warriors abandoned their pressing game. Steadily the game closed as the Hawks tallied time and again on a fast break. Gettysburg failed to connect once from the floor and mustered but four fouls, three by Skinner and a single by Penn. At half time the count was 25-22. Late in the frame Coach Forney inserted Skip Fisel who played but two minutes due to his injured leg. John Carter and Bob Hixon were also inserted but to no avail as far as goals were concerned.

The original starting lineup took the floor for the third period and the first Gettysburg goal in 10 minutes came when Skinner tapped in a basket to make it 29-24 after a minute and a half. Hanover kept coming and a goal by Study plus a foul by Prock knotted the score at 32-32 after 4:17 of the round. Three straight fouls by Rohrbaugh plus his one-handed stab, a long toss by Schmitt and a free toss by Penn made it 40-34 going into the final frame.

It was all Gettysburg thereafter. In the first two minutes Schmitt hit from a long shot and Penn netted two quick tosses.

Schmitt landed a one-hander before Schue netted a foul for the visitors. Gettysburg began to freeze the ball which opened up the Hanover defense for a run of 12 straight points before Schue again landed from the free throw lane. Carter and Skinner played key roles as they took control under the boards. An entire new Warrior team played the final 2:15 minutes.

The win marked the ninth against but two reverses for the locals who next Tuesday complete the first half of the league season at Chambersburg.

The Warriors reserves lost their second league engagement in the preliminary game 35-30. Coach Ross Sachs' outfit encountered a poor second period and failed to make use of the free throw lane, netting but 10 of 27.

TURN DOWN BELL ON PLAN TO CUT SIZE OF SQUADS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Apparently National Football League owners believe their $30,000 a year commissioner has been crying in his beer—probably the brew that sponsors the league's television and radio programs.

NFL Boss Bert Bell has been bemoaning the financial status of the majority of his 12 team league. But last night, the owners said their say. In effect, they told Bell and anyone else who cared to listen, that there is nothing wrong with the financial structure of their league. They did it by rejecting a proposal by the commissioner to cut squads to a limit of 30 players, thereby saving some $20,000 to $25,000 per team a year.

A Slap In The Face
As a result, each club will be allowed 33 men on the active roster with an indefinite number of "injured" players available if they have been on the required reserve list for 30 days. Actually, this means a club will be able to carry up to 40 players. Players can be switched from the injured to the active lists as needs dictate.

The action was a slap in the face for the commissioner and he acted that way in making the announcement of the decision to the press. He seemed amazed that even some of the poorer clubs voted to retain the 33 player limit.

Bell has been crying economy for more than a month. He has declared emphatically that unless the clubs economize there wouldn't be any pro football eventually. Today, the explosive issue of which conference Baltimore will be placed in comes up for discussion.

Boiling Springs became the team to beat in the Adams County Scholastic Basketball League as the Bubblers' wallpiped Biglerville 63-31 at Boiling Springs Friday evening to take over undisputed possession of first place. The defeat was the first for the Cannons in league play.

The Bubblers hopped off into a 13-6 lead in the first period and were never headed. Ed Burchell set the pace for the winners with 16. Terry Hutton, the league's leading scorer, was held to nine.

The Bubblers had a perfect evening as the girls eked out a 24-23 win over Biglerville to take first place in the girls' division. Biglerville was the tightest last season.

Newville gained a tie with New Oxford for fourth place through a 41-28 decision on the Newville floor. Dick Zeigler and Jack Heberling were the big offensive stars for the winners while Kenney Ecker landed 11 for New Oxford.

East Berlin, last year's champs, were given stiff opposition by the Littlestown Thunderbolts before emerging a 47-43 victor in a game at East Berlin. At half time the Indians led 27-26. Jack Hoffman looped 17 points for East Berlin while Dean Yealy and Bob Koonitz were good for 13 and 11, respectively.

Fairfield's debut under its new coach, John McAndrews, successor to Ira Kerr, was disastrous as York Springs gained a 52-29 verdict on the Fairfield floor. The defeat dropped winless Fairfield into the league cellar and elevated York Springs to seventh place, it marking the Springers' initial league triumph. Carson Opeelman accounted for 10 points for the winners with every other player breaking into the scoring Harold Bettis netted 14 to be top man for Fairfield.

G-BURG JUNIOR HI VICTIM OF HANOVER QUINT

Hanover Junior High School's powerful unbeaten basketball handed the Gettysburg dribblers a 60-38 defeat Friday night on the Hanover floor.

The Falcons' triumph was their 15th in a row, including a number of games from last season. Without a doubt the Hanover team is the best team encountered by a local squad in many years.

For the first period Coach Rogers Herr's team held its own but Hanover, seldom missing a shot, poured 23 points through the hoops to sew up the verdict in the second frame. Forry accounted for 11 goals for Hanover while Merle Gorman and Rod Johnson put up nice games for Gettysburg. The defeat was the third against three wins for the locals.

In the preliminary game the jayvees took an 18-14 lead in the first half but accounted for but three points in the third period, eventually losing 36-30.

Next Tuesday Chambersburg Junior High will play here.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Martin Becomes 35th Governor
(By L. U. Leslie) Harrisburg, Jan. 19 (AP)—Edward Martin, one-time farmer boy, was inaugurated Governor of Pennsylvania today at a hurriedly-arranged indoor ceremony with an humble prayer on his lips for divine guidance to help him lead the commonwealth through the trying years of war.

The shift of the inaugural scene from an outdoor scene was decided upon two hours before the ceremony because of a continued misty rain.

The lean 63-year old retired soldier, who entered the army as a buck private 45 years ago and left as a major general, took the oath as the commonwealth's 35th governor in the Forum of the Educational building, with a seating capacity of 1,800.

Pennsylvania's chief justice, George W. Maxey, administered the oath at 12:08 p.m., Martin placing his hand on the treasured testament his childhood sweetheart, now his wife, gave him in 1898 when he went to the Spanish American war.

In keeping with Martin's request, for a ceremony of "utmost simplicity," the inaugural committee dropped the traditional parade and limited the inauguration proper to 30 minutes.

Lieutenant Governor John C. Bell, Jr. was inducted into office at 10:30 a.m. in the Senate Chamber.

Henry Scharf to Head Red Cross Drive
Henry M. Scharf has been accepted the chairmanship of the 1943 Red Cross War Fund campaign for $18,700 from Adams County, it was announced at chapter headquarters in the court house. Preparation are already under way for the drive which will open March 1.

Miss Daugherty Weds Sergeant
Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mildred E. Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Daugherty, East Middle street, and Sergeant Clarence E. Kitzmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Blaine Kitzmiller, in York, Wednesday evening.

The bride has been employed at the office of the Gettysburg Times. Before induction into the Army, Sergeant Kitzmiller was assistant manager of the G. C. Murphy company store in Bellefonte. At present he is stationed at Camp Blanding, Florida, with the medical detachment.

Church Burns Mortgage
One hundred and sixty-five persons attended the annual congregation dinner and business meeting at Christ Lutheran Church, Wednesday evening, which was featured by the burning of the mortgage on the church indebtedness which was incurred in the remodeling of the church 12 years ago.

The dinner was served by the Women's Service Guild of the church.

The Rev. Dwight F. Putman gave his yearly report. A Harrison Barr, building fund chairman, reported the church indebtedness had been liquidated during the last year.

The following were elected to the church council for two years: Lester Johnson, Paul Kinsey, Kermit Herter, Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, Dr. George Miller and Dr. Thomas L. Cline.

Yoder-Currens: Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Julie M. Currens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen L. Currens, Fairfield, and Carl E. Yoder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yoder, Ortanna. The ceremony was performed in Baltimore Saturday morning. A few friends and relatives attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Yoder are employed at the Glen L. Martin company, Baltimore.

Manchey-Riley: Miss Myrtle Florence Riley, Littlestown, and Crane W. Manchey, Hanover, were united in marriage Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Littlestown. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. S. Kammerer.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan R. Riley, Littlestown. She has been a teacher in the Littlestown grade schools for a number of years.

The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson to 12 seniors.

Today's Talk

WHERE I SEE GOD MOST

God doesn't hide in any special place, human being or country. He is everywhere — and He does not hide at all! He is in everything that is created upon this earth, including everything that moves and has life. God is manifest. He is just as evident in a colorful flower, distributing its perfume, as in a cloud that separates to let the sunshine through.

It is attributed to Napoleon as having said that had there been no God one would have had to be invented!

I see God in the springtime, unfolding in all nature. I see Him in ripening grains, the full foliage of summer, in the dying autumn, and in winter's magical snowflakes. I see Him in the sunrise and sunsets, in the canopy of the stars at night, and in the raindrops that quench the thirst of the land. I see Him in the song of rivers, and in the wash of the sea. I see Him in every blade of grass. Mostly, however, I see God in the human heart, where He moves people to kindness, patience, humility and unselfishness. There it is that He communes most with people, advising, suggesting, and inspiring to good deeds and generous actions. There it is that God abides, "His wonders to perform." In the smile of a child you see Him. He it is Who comforts those in sorrow or trouble.

God it is Who has an eye for the "shorn lamb" or "the sparrow's fall." God's eye is everywhere! He is a visitor to the humblest home. He is on every battlefield, to give cheer and hope, and to give comfort to the wounded and dying. He is in hearts where you might not expect Him to be — but He is there just the same. He is no respecter of persons. He is the Father of all, and so must look out for what is His own.

I even see God in the honest eye of a dog, and in the wag of his tail! I see Him in the shadow of every national or worldwide catastrophe. God is universal. It's His people who inhabit the earth and He is not going to let them down. All that He asks is faith in His unimpeachable wisdom.

Protected, 1953, George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

THOUGHT FOR A LIFETIME
If to succeed I have to be
Hard as a nail
And never need for pity see,
I'd rather fail.

If I to win the goal I seek
Brute strength must use
And trample on and crush the weak,
I'd rather lose.

If I must dedicate my years
To selfish gain
And pay no heed to sighs or tears,
Poor I'd remain.

If I to win all graciousness
Must sacrifice,
I'd say that such a bleak success
Not worth the price.

C. A. EATON, 84, FORMER SOLON, PASSES AWAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Rep. Charles A. Eaton of New Jersey, one-time chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, died Friday. He was 84.

Eaton died at 2:30 a. m. at his Washington apartment. He had been in failing health for some time and chose not to run for reelection last year. He completed his 14th consecutive term in Congress Jan. 3.

Long a ranking figure in foreign affairs, Eaton was a delegate to the founding conference of the United Nations in 1945 and later served as a United States delegate to the U. N.

He was chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee in the Republican-controlled 80th Congress of 1947-48.

Elected In 1924
The veteran New Jersey Republican was born in Nova Scotia in March, 1868, and resided in Watchung, Somerset County.

He was first elected to Congress in 1924.

Before entering politics, Eaton was a prominent Baptist churchman. He was graduated from the Newton Theological Institute of Massachusetts in 1893, and served pastorates in Natick, Mass.; Toronto, Ont.; Cleveland, O.; and New York.

During World War I, he headed the National Service Section of the U. S. Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corp. Republican leaders of Somerset County urged him to run for Congress in 1924 and he was re-elected every time he ran.

A staunch supporter of the bipartisan approach to foreign policy, Eaton worked closely during and after World War II with the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan.

Consulted by F. D. R.
Eaton frequently was called in for consultation on foreign policy by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

When he was chosen as a member of the first American delegation to the U. N. conference at San Francisco, Eaton said:

"I am in complete accord with your (Roosevelt's) statement before Congress that 'there can be no middle ground here. We shall have to take the responsibility for world collaboration, or we shall have to bear the responsibility for another world conflict.'"

Tall and white-haired, Eaton was a familiar figure at Capitol Hill for a quarter of a century. He was succeeded as the representative of New Jersey's Fifth Congressional District earlier this month by Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., also a Republican.

Eaton's interests were many and varied. In addition to his work in the church and in politics, he was at various times an editor, reporter, industrial relations consultant and shipbuilding consultant.

Pentagon Is Surprised
It was the Pentagon's turn to be surprised. Floberg, not Whitehair, had been designated interim Navy boss by former Secretary Dan Kimball and former Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett.

At the Defense Department, it was said Kimball had sent Whitehair's resignation, together with his own and other Navy resignations, to Lovett's office on Dec. 19.

On Jan. 5, Lovett's office transmitted to the White House resignations for all of the Pentagon top officials affected by the change of administration. Also sent were the names of three service deputy or assistant secretaries recommended to stay on in the interim.

No one seemed clear about what happened to the Whitehair resignation.

SEEK 50 MILLION FOR CHURCHES
BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP)—Fifty million dollars will be raised by Methodist Church members in the next four years for new church buildings and renovation work, the Methodist Board of Missions was told Thursday night.

Dr. Earl R. Brown, general executive secretary of the church's Division of Home Missions, set that figure as the overall total to be raised by local annual Methodist conferences.

Speaking at a session of the mission board's annual four-day meeting, Dr. Brown said that a special fund-raising campaign, known as "The Advance for Christ and His Church," will be continued. The fund in the past four years, he said, raised over two million dollars for church building needs.

U.N. Stenographer Is Fired On Secret Data

Fired On Secret Data

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. has fired a Russian-speaking American woman stenographer on the basis of secret information supplied by the U. S. government.

A U. N. spokesman disclosed the dismissal of Mrs. Irene Pogorelsky last night in answer to reporters' queries. He would say only that the secret information came from "reliable official sources."

Mrs. Pogorelsky, who earned $3,800 a year in the Russian language typing pool, was fired effective Jan. 21.

The executive agency drew some of the heaviest Republican fire in the recent campaign—a climax to many years of Capitol Hill attacks on the department during Democratic administrations.

The Senate already has confirmed John Foster Dulles' appointment as Eisenhower's secretary of state. Thursday Dulles held a two-hour "get acquainted" conference behind closed doors with the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Two other top appointees in the foreign policy field—Harold E. Stassen as mutual security director and Henry Cabot Lodge as Chief delegate to the United Nations—were approved Thursday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Submit 3 More Names
Friday the committee scheduled another session to consider three other nominations by Eisenhower for key state department posts:

"I feel like a country boy in the big city again," Truman asserted.

At the present time, he added, he does not consider there is any possibility that he will run for Congress, and he doesn't think that he will seek any office again.

What he would like to do is to get away with Mrs. Truman and his daughter Margaret for a long rest. After all, he pointed out, practically everybody else who participated in last year's hectic political campaign has done so.

SEEK TO CHANGE PENNSYLVANIA'S ADOPTION CODE

Judge W. C. Sheely was invited to the conference mentioned in the appended Associated Press dispatch but was unable to attend because of the pressure of court business here.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Representatives of 176 statewide organizations were invited to the State Capitol Friday to discuss proposed amendments to revamp Pennsylvania's 28-year-old child adoption code.

"The present laws aren't definite enough," Miss Beatrice MacNally, state adoption consultant in the Department of Welfare, said.

Miss MacNally said the three main problems facing the groups comprising Gov. John S. Fine's adoption planning committee are: Drafting provisions defining abandonment of children; outlining procedure for voluntary relinquishment of a child to an institution or agency; and certification of agencies by the Department of Welfare.

Included among the representatives are civic, professional and service group leaders as well as all judges of Pennsylvania's orphan courts.

Says Law Not Definite

"As far as abandonment and relinquishment of children are concerned, the law is not definite enough," Miss MacNally said. "Pennsylvania has no certification of agencies. There is nothing in the present law which tells who shall give a child for adoption."

A committee of 21 persons was appointed by the larger group to draft proposed amendments to the state law. The proposed amendments are slated for action by the entire group.

The group has recommended previously that the present adoption code be amended by the 1953 Legislature, looking ahead to an entire new child care code in later sessions.

Last week a State Supreme Court ruling in the case of 18-year-old Mrs. Bonnie Sue Stanley, who won custody of her 22-month-old daughter she left in a founding home, defined "abandonment" for the first time, Miss MacNally said.

Chief Justice Horace Stern, writing the high court's majority decision ruled that "mere neglect does not necessarily constitute abandonment," Miss MacNally said.

SILENT ON 1ST CABINET MEET

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and his Cabinet held their first formal meeting Friday—a two hour and ten minute session from which the new administration's high command departed under orders not to talk.

Vice President Nixon told reporters it is the understanding that there will be no mention, even of general subject matters, about what happens in Cabinet meetings.

Nixon did say, however, that there will be a meeting of Republican legislators and the President some time next week. He said the State has not been set.

Nixon said an understanding as to a rule of silence was reached when Eisenhower met with his Cabinet in New York before his inauguration.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield told reporters to see White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

He said he was assuming Hagerty would have some sort of statement on the Cabinet meeting.

New Oxford

NEW OXFORD — Mr. and Mrs. George Stock, Hershey, were entertained over the weekend by Mrs. Stock's mother, Mrs. James R. Weaver, and family.

Mrs. Claude S. Straley, who was taken ill several weeks ago, is still confined to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hensel Sr. entertained members of their family Sunday to mark the birthdays of their granddaughters, children of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lewis Kroft, East Berlin. Joyce Kroft became six years old January 17, and her sister, Barbara, five the day following. Joyce and her brother, Billy, have recovered from recent illnesses that confined them to their home.

Mrs. John Dutera, who has been confined to her home for several weeks with a leg injury sustained in a fall, is now able to walk with crutches.

The infant son of John A. and Dorothy Smith Staub has been named William Francis.

Harvey G. Bollinger has returned to his business after several days confinement to his room due to a severe chest cold. Mrs. Bollinger also contracted a severe cold and, although improved, is still confined to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Merchant, near Lebanon, recently became the parents of a son, Peter Alwine Merchant. Mrs. Merchant is the former Anna Catherine Alwine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Alwine, near town.

At a meeting Wednesday evening of the local chapter, National Council of Catholic Women, the women discussed plans for the pub-

Taft's Son Seeks Diplomatic Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft's son is making a bid for the post of ambassador to Ireland. It is a move that could provide some embarrassment for President Eisenhower.

The Ohio Republican's son, William Howard Taft III, has asked senators to back him for the Irish position. He served for three years as deputy administrator for the Marshall Plan program in Ireland and now is a professor of Gaelic culture at Yale.

The elder Taft is majority leader of the Senate. It is through him that Eisenhower must submit his legislative program to Congress.

There is no indication that Eisenhower has made up his mind about the Irish ambassadorship.

CIO IGNORED BY PRESIDENT IN LABOR POSTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steps apparently were being taken today to head off a possible feud between the CIO and the new Republican administration.

The union organization was bypassed when President Eisenhower filled two top jobs in the Labor Department. He appointed two AFL men—Martin Durkin as new secretary of labor and Lloyd Mashburn as undersecretary.

CIO President Walter Reuther told newsmen Thursday the CIO has been asked to name a man for appointment as an assistant secretary of labor.

But Reuther said he wasn't jumping at the offer. He said the CIO wouldn't suggest anyone unless assured their man would have a voice in framing the new administration's labor policies. Reuther said he intends to take up the matter soon with Durkin.

Ignored CIO Request

"It has to be something better than a title, a relatively good salary and nothing more," Reuther said. "We're not interested in government jobs or patronage."

"We feel we have a definite contribution to make, representing most of the workers in the mass production, defense industries."

Eisenhower apparently ignored a recommendation by Reuther that a CIO man be named undersecretary of labor. Mashburn, an AFL official, was chosen for the job shortly after the CIO's appeal.

Playing second fiddle to the AFL in official Washington is a new experience for the CIO, which enjoyed close connections with the White House during most of the recent Democratic administrations.

Reuther disclosed that he and AFL President George Meany have agreed to renew negotiations late next month for a merger of the two big labor groups. Several prior merger efforts have failed.

CHURCHILL IS RETURNING HOME

NEW YORK (AP) — Winston Churchill bundled together his papers, his paints and his family Friday and boarded the liner Queen Mary for England after a West Indies vacation.

The British Prime Minister, looking fit and rested, told newsmen on the gangway of the big Cunard liner.

"We had a very good journey and passed a pleasant fortnight in the sunshine—a little rest, a little change."

Then, smiling impishly, Churchill added: "Thank you very much for allowing me to inform you of these important facts."

Accompanied by Mrs. Churchill, their daughter, Mrs. Christopher Soames; and son-in-law, Capt. Soames, the Prime Minister landed at Idlewild Airport about an hour earlier.

In the cold grey dawn of New York Harbor the Prime Minister was in no mood to discuss art or politics. He was pleasant—but firmly intent on getting aboard the Queen Mary for breakfast.

He card party to be given at the parochial hall Wednesday evening, January 28. These women of the group are in charge of special arrangements: Mrs. Ryland Robinson, Mrs. Carroll Rider, Mrs. Anna-Laura Slaybaugh, Miss Marie Carbaugh, Mrs. Albert F. Smith, Miss Teresa M. Noel, Mrs. Bernard Aumen Sr., Mrs. Raphael H. Smith, Mrs. Betha Brashears, Mrs. Linus J. Bevenour, Mrs. Charles I. Groff, Mrs. Lawrence Bevenour, Mrs. Thomas D. O'Brien, Mrs. John C. Fleschman and Mrs. Clyde Bevenour.

John E. George is confined to his home due to illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ford, near New Chester, recently became parents of a daughter.

George Raber, this section, was guest speaker Thursday evening at a meeting of the Crusaders group in the Pousquare Gospel church, West York.

Many authorities believe there is no reason for thinking that the Vandals resorted to objectless destruction in their great raid on Rome in 455, which modern use of the term "vandal" implies.

SEEK SLAYER OF LIBRARIAN IN BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE (AP) — Flags were flown at half mast over the Enoch Pratt Library here as police continued to comb the city Friday for the killer of Miss Leonore M. Naylor, the gentle and beloved head of a branch library.

One of about 20 suspects police brought in off the streets on Thursday was a man carrying a knife with a six-inch blade. He was picked up only one block from where the 60-year-old spinster was fatally stabbed Wednesday night in a robbery attack.

The slight, bespectacled Miss Naylor was victimized as she parked her car near the Lyric Theater. She was to have sung with a chorus in a concert production of the Byron poem, "Manfred," staged with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra.

Had Knife In Belt

Police put added significance on the arrest they made Thursday after investigators reported the killer was left-handed. The 17-year-old youth was carrying the knife in his belt, on the left side.

A medical examiner said the five stab wounds were angled in such a way that they were inflicted by a left-handed person as he confronted Miss Naylor.

The woman, although severely slashed in the throat, gasped out her story from a hospital bed before she died three hours after the attack. Police said from her description of the Negro assailant they had a "well-identified suspect" in mind.

Earlier Thursday, police arrested a suspect after a rough-and-tumble fight on a busy downtown street.

Police said he matched in most details the description the librarian managed to give of her assailant before she died.

The man in custody is about 40 years old and was once an inmate of a veteran's mental institution. The search, however, continued in what Police Commissioner Beverly Ober said was an "all out" effort.

TAB GAMBLER FOR $486,722.64 IN INCOME TAX

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Frank Costello, bigtime gambler now serving a prison term for contempt, has been slapped with income tax liens totaling nearly $500,000.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue filed the liens here Thursday, and as a result any assets Costello may have in Essex County are tied up until he settles his account with tax authorities.

The liens total $486,722.64. The largest, for $211,677.59, covers Costello's 1944 income. A 1945 lien is for $127,562.03. His wife, Loretta, also is named in one of the liens, that of 1942, for $98,561.37. Other liens are for 1942, $19,316.39; and 1941, $19,605.16.

Tax officials said the liens originated with the Internal Revenue Bureau's New York office, where a similar action was instituted against the gambler. Costello must satisfy the claims with 10 days, the government said, or action will be taken to seize his assets.

Costello was sentenced to prison for refusing to answer questions before the Senate Crime Investigation Committee. He is serving an 18-month term in the Federal Correctional Institute at Milan, Mich., and has filed for parole.

Regain Control Of Western Pen Rioters

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Officials at Western State Penitentiary regained full control of the prison Friday after state police drove convicts back into lock-cells with a volley of shots.

Since the riot ended Monday, the 1,000 prisoners had been roaming their two cellblocks because they had broken the locks on cell doors.

A detail of state police, armed with rifles and pistols, entered the cellblocks, today fired a warning volley to forestall any possible resistance and ordered the convicts into the cells.

The prisoners obeyed and police took up positions outside the doors. Previously the convicts had been lining up peacefully for meals and work details but were free to walk about the cell blocks. The locks are being repaired.

Girl Thrown From Car Out Of Control

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A 20-year-old girl was thrown from a car and killed when the auto ran out of control and crashed into an embankment along Route 45, west of Lewisburg.

The victim, Miss Joyce Mince-moyer of Lewisburg, was one of four passengers in a car driven by Dale Harvey, 18, of Bloomsburg. Harvey suffered a slight concussion and a possible leg fracture.

Three teen-age girls riding in the back of the car received only slight scratches.

Police said a witness to the accident Thursday reported Harvey driving at a high rate of speed after passing another car.

Toward Better Idling

One reason why, trying to make an engine idle smoothly proves such a task for motorists as well as mechanics is because too little attention is paid to the changes which are taking place in an engine during the testing and adjusting. Temperature, for instance, is rising steadily, so that if the job is too prolonged the engine may start to falter because of mild vapor lock. Oil is thinning down because of heat, and that means more blow by the rings and likely some interference with spark plug efficiency. There also is expansion of the valve stems. If clearances are very close one or two valves may start to leak because they do not seat lightly.

The mechanic isn't trying to run up the expense if he calls in a helper. The job isn't simple at all. The helper will "rev" up the engine to normalize its action. He may adjust the throttle stop screw for idling speed while the mechanic is adjusting the idling screws. Often it is necessary to retune the motor or check over all the tappet clearances.

Timing In Traveling

Seasoned travelers are rapidly learning how to avoid congestion and are coming up with some interesting findings. I wondered why a friend of mine started for Florida on a Sunday when the trip involved going through one of the largest cities on the Eastern seaboard. Experience had demonstrated to him that by starting at 6 a.m. he could drive 100 miles to and through the normally car-packed city before the Sunday rush. One of the newer developments in travel recreation in the city week-end trio. Visitors drive to the city just as most people are flocking from it, returning to their home town when city folk are coming back from the country. This sort of timing keeps you on the less congested side.

Simple Side Of Stalling

So much attention has been driven to newer causes of engine stalling we are apt to be like a friend of mine who overlooked one of the simplest of all reasons for this trouble—a cracked spark plug. Another common cause of stalling is pitting of breaker points. Better known is incorrect carburetor float level, but one that sometimes fools the experts is too little valve tappet clearance. The desire to compete with engines with quiet hydraulic valve lifters sometimes tempts owners to cut down too much on clearance.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"I don't blame car owners for being puzzled by some of the odd things that happen to cars. They even fool us sometimes."

"What brought this to mind was a recent job in which there was a habitual burning out of one of the headlights. The odd part of it was that in addition to the trouble always being confined to the low beam the burning affected only one of the lamps."

"We cleared this up for him by explaining that on his particular car, an older model, only one of the lamps dropped its beam. The trouble turned up in the dimmer switch."

Thought For Safety

At this time of year it isn't surprising that a bit of carelessness when changing tires may result in a skid. I am thinking particularly of the fellow who made a quick change to a brand new spare tire and then started driving a little faster to make up for lost time. The spare replaced a rear wheel tire and provided a lot more traction than the worn tire on the opposite wheel. On his first major stop the car went into a skid. He would have realized the danger in time to have prevented it had he remembered to try the brakes and make a few test stops.

Odd among the car troubles recently picked up by a busy repairer was the knocking noise heard under the hood whenever the car was accelerated. It had all the earmarks of a strictly mechanical motor condition but turned out to be looseness of the radiator. When the engine shook in its flexible mounting the radiator was disturbed.

Another was complete failure of the clutch. This turned out to be the result of not having sufficient clearance between the clutch pedal arm and the toeboard. The clutch was never fully engaged, always slipping.

Just For A Start

There's a tip in an early instruction book which I think answers a question often asked by drivers of both conventional and automatic transmission cars. In discussing the details of putting the car into action the book reads: "The first speed should be used only to get the car in motion."

Many ask if it isn't wise to skip second and get the car rolling faster in low. Well, the old instructions still stand, in my opinion. I think this also gives the answer to whether to use emergency low with an automatic or a torque converter in order to speed up the getaway. Yes, it does speed up things, including wear and tear on the motor.

A woman reader has asked just how she should have the selector lever set when rolling down a slight grade into a lot of busy traffic when leaving the driveway of her home. Her car is equipped with an automatic transmission.

I told her to have the selector in the neutral position and to rely on the brakes to control the car while backing. In reverse there would be the risk of the car teeing off suddenly should she happen to grade is just enough so that the car is more safely backed under its own momentum.

Just Borrowing Trouble

How fussy can motorists get? I wonder about this whenever I receive a letter saying that while

What's Your Trouble?

Q. In spite of the fact that the fuel pump tests a pressure of five pounds the engine of my car cuts out when working to the limit on hills. Ignition has been carefully checked. There is no evidence of vapor lock. K. L. L.

A. How about the screen in the carburetor intake? Elsewhere in your letter you state that the fuel filter has been cleaned out, but I think you have overlooked the carburetor.

Q. My car is parked on a slight downgrade and as extra protection I leave the gears in reverse. In the morning, however, it is almost impossible to move the shift lever to neutral. I have been told to push down the clutch pedal and start the engine, and then shift. But it seems to me that this might complicate matters. Wm. L. K.

A. This is the right procedure. In fact, you will probably find that with the clutch pedal down and brakes firmly applied the gears will be free to shift to neutral. The resistance is due to pressure on them.

Q. I understand that fast driving is one of the main causes of high oil consumption, but I have just been talking with a driver who regularly makes long trips at a high speed average and the engine of his car appears to be quite easy on oil. How come? F. F. G.

A. Well, much depends on the skill of the driver. He is doubtless careful not to close the throttle

DULLES SILENT ON BREAK WITH GEORGE KENNAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles opened his career as Secretary of State Thursday with a demand for "positive loyalty" to national policies—a demand which forecast a possible break with Ambassador George F. Kennan, top Soviet expert.

Dulles said that with "discipline and loyalty" the State Department can become a force "which can work effectively to win the cold war and make it unnecessary to win a shooting war."

As his first official act after being sworn in with other members of the Eisenhower cabinet, Dulles told State Department and Foreign Service employees that the national peril demands "competence, discipline and positive loyalty" to policies laid down by the President and Congress.

After a two-hour meeting with the House Foreign Affairs committee, he made plain that he was aware of an apparent conflict with Kennan over the policy to be followed by the new Republican administration in dealing with the Communists.

Conflicting Views

Dulles was asked specifically by news men whether his discipline demand would mean the departure of Kennan, a holdover from the Truman administration. He said he had not "gone into the Kennan matter." Associates said, however, that Dulles recognized a conflict in view when Kennan said in a speech at Scranton, Pa., last Friday that for this government to try to promote "the internal disintegration of Soviet power" would be inconsistent with international obligations.

Dulles, during the presidential campaign, advocated the use of all sorts of peaceful measures—he did not specify just what—to arouse the spirit of liberty in Soviet satellite states and eventually their liberation.

Kennan, veteran career diplomat assigned to Moscow last May, was barred by the Kremlin from returning to his post after a temporary absence last fall, because of remarks comparing Russia's isolation of foreigners in Moscow with Nazi practices before World War II. He is credited with being the principal author of the Truman-Acheson policy of "containing" Soviet aggression while building up Western strength.

Allies Blast 15 Russian Jets In 3 Days' Fight

SEOUL (AP)—Allied Sabre jets destroyed four Communist MIG-15s and damaged seven in clear skies high over Northwest Korea Friday, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

It brought to 15 the number of Russian-built jets knocked down in three days. At least 13 have been damaged. One Red jet probably destroyed Tuesday before resumption of large scale air battles.

The Air Force earlier had reported three MIGs destroyed Friday but a study of gun camera films showed that another went down.

Capt. Delphin P. Overton III of Andrews, S. C., was credited with bagging his fourth MIG in three days—the hottest record in the current series of dogfights.

He got his MIG Friday—only one more to go to become an ace—on his 148th mission. Overton had flown 145 missions, 100 of them in F84 Thunderjet fighter-bombers, before downing his first MIG Wednesday. He has two missions to fly to complete his second tour.

Also getting his fourth kill was Lt. Harold E. Fisher Jr. of North Las Vegas, Nev.

DENY TRUCKS DAMAGE ROADS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Motor Truck association said Friday that "all available evidence supports the conclusion that the highways of Pennsylvania have not experienced accelerated deterioration from motor truck traffic."

The association drew the conclusion in a brief filed with the Joint State Government Commission, which is making a study of the controversial truck weight question for the General Assembly.

The commission, a continuing research agency of the Legislature, will submit its report to the Assembly for consideration in the renewed debate over the question of raising the weight limits of trucks using state highways.

The motor truck association is backing again a bill to increase the maximum weight of commonly used trucks from 45,000 to 60,000 pounds. Such a bill passed the Assembly in 1951 but was vetoed by Gov. John S. Fine. The governor at the time asked the Joint State government commission to make a comprehensive study of the question.

Grated carrots, finely diced celery and finely shredded cabbage make a delicious luncheon salad when moistened with mayonnaise and seasoned with salt, pepper and finely grated onion. Serve the cream of tomato soup with the sandwich.

Young Folk At Great Conewago Church Keep Busy

Probably never in the 212 years of history of the Great Conewago Presbyterian Church at Hunters-town has there been a more energetic group of members than the "Ever Willing Workers" that have been getting things done lately for the old church and its congregation in central Adams County.

Made up of young married couples of the community that came close to being the county seat a century and a half ago, the group has completely remodeled and re-decorated the 99-year-old church manse between the old stone edifice on the hill to the north and Hunterstown itself.

With grandmothers pressed into service as baby sitters for their 18 children while the younger generation of husbands and wives worked, the industrious group removed old paper from the manse walls, re-papered the interior, painted woodwork, replaced hundreds of window panes and put the manse in shape to be rented to two families.

Raised Funds For Work

Then they turned to the brick chapel that stands by the church, itself about 75 years old. They excavated under the building and installed a new oil burning furnace with the husbands and the supply pastor, the Rev. William M. Beattie, doing most of the digging and actual installation. They worked until 2 a.m. on the morning of the first Sunday of this year to put finishing touches on the job so that the new furnace could be used for the first Church School session of this year.

While they donated their time, the Ever Willing Workers solicited members of the church and friends of the congregation for donations to pay for the new furnace. They had raised the other funds for the manse and chapel improvements by conducting a number of auctions, picking apples and holding suppers in the chapel building.

There are eight couples of the young married set in the church in the Ever Willing Workers' group. Those not shown are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dettinburn and Mrs. Jane Sturgeon, whose husband is in Korea.

Once Was Girls' Academy

J. Frank McIlhenny, an elder of the church supplied some of the expert help that was required in painting, carpentry or masonry work that was involved in the various projects.

The views on the right are front and southern side pictures of the now remodeled manse.

It was built about 1854 by the Rev. I. N. Hays, a former pastor. It once was used as a young ladies' academy by the builder and his sister, Jane. It was bought by the church about 1914 and was used for a number of years as the parsonage. Since preachers in later years have had their own homes, the manse has been rented.

3RD AIR BRAKE TAMPERING ON TRAIN IS FOUND

BOSTON (AP)—Discovery of an other partly closed angle cock air brake valve on a New Haven train—the third within nine days—was under investigation today.

A New Haven spokesman said an angle cock was found yesterday "not in its proper position" on the second car of the Boston-to-New York "New Yorker." The device controls the air brakes.

Howard Moulton, a public relations man, said the discovery was made during an inspection of cars at Providence, R. I.

He said the valve on the second car of the train was found "partly closed." He added it was returned to its normal position and the train continued to New York.

One Train Wrecked

The first apparent instance of brake tampering involved the crack Boston-to-Washington "Federal Express" which crashed into Washington Union Station Jan. 15 and injured some 50 persons. That wreck has been blamed on possible tampering with an angle cock.

The second instance of brake tampering was reported Thursday by U. S. Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R-NH), chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee. He said it "begins to look like sabotage."

The railroad confirmed that an air brake valve on the fifth car of the "Colonial Express" was found half turned while the train was standing in New Haven, Conn. Paul R. Goulet, an assistant vice president, said the valve was adjusted and the Colonial continued on to New York and Washington without further incident.

He said the FBI has been notified of the "odd" incidents, adding

TRUMANS DRIFT BACK TO SIMPLE LIFE SLOWLY

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—The presidency and all its trials seemed countless years and miles away today as Harry and Bess Truman drifted slowly back into the simple routine of a small Midwestern town.

Truman himself after nearly eight years working 17 hours a day, was not having an easy time of it settling down to a life with no crises to confront.

Finding a new job that would not clash with the dignity and honors of his former high office and getting things unpacked at the big white frame home on North Delaware Street made up two of his biggest problems. In addition, there was a mounting pile of mail pouring into his private office in Kansas City.

May Take Trips

But for a restless man like the former President, accustomed to seeing callers all day long, signing his name 600 times a day, surveying the whole international picture every morning before breakfast and directing the biggest government in the world, this seemed hardly enough to occupy the long hours.

And the hours are always long for a farm-raised boy who invariably gets up before 7 a.m. Whether he will get away for that long rest he has promised himself depends on when he can make arrangements that will dovetail with the singing engagements of his daughter Margaret. Later on, after a lot of other problems are out of the way, he may take a trip abroad but that still is in the discussion stage.

IKE TO CONFER WITH NEW HEAD OF 8TH ARMY

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower called in the new commander of the Eighth Army in Korea today for a conference likely to deal with the chief executive's plans for trying to end the stalemate war.

Eisenhower, who spent three days in Korea early in December, arranged to meet at the White House with Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chosen yesterday to head the Eighth Army. He succeeds Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who is retiring.

Eisenhower promised during his campaign for the presidency that, if elected, he would go to Korea in an effort to find a way to bring the war to an honorable end.

Expects No Miracles

After his pre-inaugural inspection of the battle zone last month, he said no miracles should be expected. But he expressed confidence that a way could be found to improve the situation in Korea.

Since then Eisenhower has had nothing to say about his intentions but he reportedly has developed a plan of action.

Taylor, 51, has been deputy chief of staff for operations and administration in Washington during most of the Korean War. He plans to leave here Monday for Tokyo, where he will be briefed by Gen. Mark Clark, Far Eastern commander in chief, before taking over Van Fleet's post.

Another Conference

From a discussion of the hot war in Korea Eisenhower apparently planned to turn today to talk of American psychological strategy in the cold war elsewhere.

Another conference booked at the White House was with William H. Jackson, a New York investment banker who lives in Princeton, N. J., and C. D. Jackson of New York, editor-on-leave of Fortune magazine.

An authoritative source said earlier this month that William Jackson had been asked by Eisenhower to head a planning commission to review U. S. psychological strategy in the cold war against communism.

To Decide On Message

C. D. Jackson, who served as an Eisenhower speech-writing aide during the campaign, reportedly will take part in the study.

William Jackson, 51, is a former deputy chief of the Central Intelligence Agency. He served under Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, who is retiring as director of that agency to be under secretary of state.

Eisenhower plans to meet Monday morning with GOP congressional leaders to fix a time for the State of the Union message he will deliver in person at a joint Senate-House session, probably later next week. The White House said the lawmakers also will discuss the contents of the message at the Monday meeting.

Says Protestants Being Persecuted

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP)—Efforts should be launched to end the persecution of Protestants in the Latin American country of Colombia, says an executive secretary of the Methodist Church.

The Methodists have no organized church in that country but the Rev. James E. Ellis, administrative secretary of Argentina, Uruguay, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile and Peru, said "a great deal of persecution aimed at Evangelical Churches was stirred up by the priesthood of Colombia."

At their annual meeting the Board of Missions of the church yesterday appropriated $15,950,519 for foreign and home missionary work for the year beginning June 1.

The board, according to church law, can spend no more for missionary work than it collects.

The board proposes to spend the money this way:

Women's Division of Christian Service for both home and overseas missions, $6,874,537; Division of Foreign Missions, $6,543,104; Division of Home Missions, $2,527,978.

Receives 18 Million Dollar AEC Contract

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. reported Thursday it has received about 18½ million dollars worth of orders for electrical equipment for use at Atomic Energy Commission installations at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky.

The largest group of orders, valued at $7,261,850, calls for several unit substations with air-cooled transformers. This equipment is being built at the company's Sharon, Pa., works.

appointed a committee of citizens of this place to make arrangements for the reception of General Lafayette in case he should come this way. We have therefore to ask the favor of you to give us the earliest information of his expected arrival at your residence. (Signed) J. B. McPherson; Samuel King, Thos. C. Miller.

Since, at this time, no copies were kept of out-going communications, the reply of Dr. Dubois is not to be found in the College archives.

Last Sunday's newspaper supplement, Parade, contained the following interesting piece about Sam Stern, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, who recently visited Gettysburg: "Back in 1920, everything looked rosy to young Sam Stern."

"Just back from the Army, Stern was developing a promising business — a department store — with his father. "Waiting for him at home each night were his young wife, Helen, and a bouncing baby daughter, Patricia."

"But, a year later, tragedy struck. Little Patricia died of what the Sterns now believe was polio."

"Sam Stern went on building up his business and using up his extra energy in civic groups — the Elks Lodge, the Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion."

"Then, in 1925, a son, Thomas Alexander, was born."

"Perhaps remembering Patricia as he watched his little son grow, Stern threw himself into his civic work. He was a leader in getting the Elks to start a crippled children's program in North Dakota, including a summer camp."

"In 1937, tragedy struck again. Thomas fell ill with polio. For nine years, he fought bravely, only to die of Bright's disease at the age of 21."

"But Sam Stern wasn't beaten. He redoubled his efforts, and became North Dakota chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis."

"And now, as national Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, Sam Stern again is urging the Elks toward greater efforts to help stricken children."

"While I am walking about as a practical everyday sort of fellow," he says, "I'm contributing to the well-being, success and happiness of my fellow man. Do you wonder that this brings me contentment, as I watch the glow of each day's setting sun?"

How much should Uncle Sam cut expenses next year and where should the cuts be made?

To find out where business men stand on this top issue of the day, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, largest business organization in the world, recently queried its members.

So far, more than 2,300 have replied. And 97 per cent said they want a pay-as-we-go federal budget with spending held to $70 billion or less.

On the second part of the query, (where do you think the cuts should be made?) replies favored reducing waste in military expenses and foreign aid. Other federal operations which should be cut are such projects as the Tennessee Valley Authority, farm price supports and related programs, and grants-in-aid to the States for social welfare programs, the business men said.

The $76.6 billion budget Truman sent to Congress would cost the average American family $1,757 in fiscal 1954. Figures compiled by the Chamber show the cost of the budget would range from $963 per family in Mississippi to $3,145 per family in the District of Columbia, based on average incomes in each State. Delaware was second highest with $2,331, then Connecticut with $2,216 and New York ranked fourth with $2,201.

But if the budget is cut to the $70 billion recommended by the business men, the national burden per family would be reduced by $192.

About 1,100 different species of trees are found in the United States.

According to Dr. Thomas S. Kelper, of Oberlin College, Ohio, only 8 per cent of a person's worries are legitimate. He claims:

40 per cent will never happen.

30 per cent are over people's criticism of us.

12 per cent are over old decisions.

10 per cent are over our health.

Thus 92 per cent of our worries are proved foolish.

The Emperor Marcus Aurelius, who ruled the Early Roman Empire from 161 to 180 A.D., "held an auction of all the imperial valuables because he was unwilling to levy higher taxes on his people." Letter to the Editor
January 23, 1953

The Gettysburg Times
Dear Sir,

With the current March of Dimes drive now underway may we take advantage of the columns of The Gettysburg Times to urge everyone to give generously to the infantile paralysis fund.

This past summer we had personal experience of the efficiency and value of the Adams County March of Dimes Infantile Paralysis fund. When our infant was stricken with polio, the county chapter offered immediate assistance.

As you may know no polio patient is admitted to the Harrisburg Hospital without a guarantee that the necessarily expensive costs of treatment and care in the contagious diseases ward will be paid.

Within minutes after the doctor diagnosed our son's illness as polio, Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, head of the local March of Dimes, was notified and had called the Harrisburg Hospital to guarantee that the local chapter would pay all bills necessary and the facilities of the Harrisburg Hospital were available to us.

No one who has not watched a child stiffen with the disease can appreciate how much that means. Within an hour of the diagnosis of the disease our son was enroute to Harrisburg and prompt medical care, thanks to the Polio Fund.

Fortunately hospitalization insurance which we carry has taken care of the cost. But the Infantile Paralysis fund of Adams County was there, ready and willing to aid in any way. When our son is returned to us next summer, if he needs further care, the county chapter has promised us such aid as may be needed.

We again urge all to contribute. Just knowing that the fund is there is well worth every cent we can contribute to it.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Henry Roth
